

SOUTHERN END IS ENTHUSIASTIC FOR G.O.P. TICKET

Visit of Hughes Injected a Lot of Ginger into the Campaign.

REPUBLICANS ORGANIZED

Wilson's Mexican Policy Is Very Unpopular in the South.

(Special Dispatch to West Virginian)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 16.—That Thomas Riley Marshall's style is not suited to West Virginia campaign purposes was concluded recently by the Democratic state executive committee. So the vice president of the United States will not make a tour of the Mountain State as had been arranged by the national committee.

The fact is that some speaker of greater ability than that of Mr. Marshall is necessary to counteract the effort of Governor Charles Evans Hughes' tour and speeches throughout the state. The Hughes visit was a ten-strike for it had tendency to arouse the Republicans to a realization of conditions nationally and to a sense of their own responsibilities. They are working better since he came.

Southern West Virginia did not get lined up just properly until Governor Hughes sent his arguments directly home to the voters. He told them the facts which they already knew but which they had permitted to slip from memory. Just as soon as these facts were recalled there was a greater interest on the part of every Republican who had been dormant in connection with the campaign, and since the visit to Charleston of the standard bearer, all the headquarters have been places of a new activity. Many have had never been around headquarters before and are dropping in now to find out what they can do. Thousands of calls have been made for Hughes and Robinson lithographs since the Hughes visit. The other candidates are being received with greater consideration than before.

That the trip to West Virginia of Judge Hughes has done a world of good is admitted on every hand. That it has caused more or less disturbance among the opposition, is also patent. That the cause of the change being made in the Marshall itinerary. They want Wilson to come.

Mason, Mercer, McDowell, Raleigh, Monroe, Putnam, Clay and Boone count the bare demonstrating what can be done with a good Republican organization. They are being supplied with speakers of prominence and the campaign has developed into one of the most interesting and extensive proportions.

Mason received the Republican speakers with joy and acclaim, while the Democratic candidates and other spellbinders who followed in that county after the Pt. Pleasant barbecue held by the Republicans, did not get much attention, although it was adulatory devotion upon every postmaster to induce at least ten persons from his own community to be present at the New Haven meeting held last Saturday. That is one of the means of getting crowds for the Democratic meetings. The postmasters are asked in long letters to get busy and bring out the voters. Some of them who live ten or twenty miles away from a meeting place are required to bring in their share of the crowd, with the understanding that if they don't they will not be considered good loyal Democrats worthy of reappointment in event Mr. Wilson is reelected.

The Kanawha county campaign is working smoothly for the Republicans and County Chairman Ira Mottershead has surrounded himself with a number of good workers who are not overlooking an opportunity any place to add to the effectiveness of the campaign. Clay county is also equally as busy. In fact the entire Sixth congressional district is up and doing something all the time.

Emory Hilliard is a traveling salesman. His home is in South Carolina. He travels through West Virginia. His father was a Confederate soldier. "Am I going home to vote?" responded Mr. Hilliard to a query from another traveler coming to Charleston from Hinton. "Well, I should say I am. I was rocked in a Democratic cradle, and never voted the Republican ticket in my life, but this time I shall vote for Judge Hughes for president. My father will vote the same way, although he fought in the Civil war against the union. We think just as much of the stars and stripes now as you northerners do, and we do not think it is being given proper consideration by the present administration."

Mr. Hilliard said it is his candid opinion that if it were not for the election machinery of the south that Mr. Hughes would be able to break up the "solid south" without the slightest difficulty. "You can't realize the feeling in the south against the president because of his Mexican policies. We southerners are not cowards and while we don't want to fight, we do want our flag to be respected not only in the United States but every where else."

A poll was taken on the train on which the Hilliard party was traveling by some of the traveling men aboard and Hughes received 38 straw votes while Wilson received 19. The vote on woman suffrage was almost two to one against the amendment. That on the candidates for governor was Robinson 34, Cornwell fourteen. A number of those voting on the presidential nominees and suffrage declined to voice their preference for governor, or being from other states had no preference.

LAMBERT MURPHY

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED BY FAMOUS TENOR

Lambert Murphy to Sing at the Grand Thursday Evening.

Although it comes at the very beginning it is altogether probable that the most important Fairmont musical event this season will be the appearance here Thursday evening of Lambert Murphy, the celebrated tenor whose singing with the Metropolitan Opera Company several seasons ago created such a furore in American musical circles.

Mr. Murphy is Irish, but he is very much American also and a product of Harvard. He will sing here at the Grand Opera house under the auspices of the Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church. The program which has been arranged for this event is calculated to display the qualities of the singer's voice at the best advantage but it will also appeal to lovers of the kinds of music. It is as follows:

"Prize Song"—Die Meistersinger . . . Wagner
Les Cygnes Noirs . . . Gaston Paulin
The Belles of Rheims Edwin H. Lemare
Call Me No More . . . Chas. W. Cadman
I'll Sing The Songs of Araby . . . Clay
Moon of the Cherry Garden . . . Ray
Aria: "Celeste Aida" . . . Verdi
Morning Hymn . . . George Henschel
I Heard a Thrush at Eve . . . Chas. W. Cadman
When the Roses Bloom . . . Louise Reichardt
Coolan Dhu . . . Leonie
The Bird of the Wilderness . . . Edward Horsman

Three lyrics by Robert Browning:
Ah, Love but a Day . . . Protheroe
I Send My Heart up to The Protheroe
The Year's at the Spring . . . Protheroe
Birthday of a King . . . Neidlinger
Mavourneen Roamin' . . . O'Neill
The Sunshine of Your Smile . . . Ray
Aria: "Celeste Aida" . . . Verdi
Morning Hymn . . . George Henschel
I Heard a Thrush at Eve . . . Chas. W. Cadman
When the Roses Bloom . . . Louise Reichardt
Coolan Dhu . . . Leonie
The Bird of the Wilderness . . . Edward Horsman

POLICE CHIEFS TALK SHOP AT HUNTINGTON

Fourth Annual State Convention Being Held in that Town.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 17.—Members of the West Virginia Police Chiefs and Peace Officers' association gathered here today for their fourth annual convention. They were formally welcomed in addresses by Mayor Edward Sehon and C. P. Snow, president of the Huntington Chamber of Commerce. A business session during which matters relative to the administration of police departments and the enforcement of state and city laws were discussed, occupied this afternoon. Members of the association will attend a banquet and ball tonight.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected to-morrow. The present officers are Harry Brooks, Clarksburg, president; A. L. McGowan, Charleston, vice president; and A. R. Hunt, Huntington, secretary and treasurer. The place for holding the 1917 convention will also be selected at the same time.

Normal Preparing For Wesleyan Game

The Normal football men were addressed by Coach Bell at a meeting of the squad at the Normal school last evening. Some advice and a considerable bit of constructive criticism was given and the men are now in shape for the scrimmage preparatory to their meeting the Wesleyan reserves Friday afternoon.

Captain Riddle, who had an arm hurt in the D. & E. game, is hoping to be able to be back in the back field by Friday. Reed, whose ankle was injured Saturday, is now able to get about nicely and will be in shape for the game.

DIES FROM BURNS
Margaret Mubrik, aged one year, daughter of Frank Mubrik, of Anna-belle, died yesterday at her home from the effects of burns received when her clothing caught fire from an open grate.

Funeral services were held this morning from the Polish church at Mononah and interment was made in the Polish cemetery by Undertaker R. L. Cunningham.

Town Talk

Rev. J. B. Reed Retires—Rev. J. B. Reed a number of years ago pastor of the local Presbyterian church who with his wife and family are well known in this city, has resigned his pastorate at Laurel Hill, Pa. Rev. Reed is past the three score and ten age limit and owing to his advancing years the duties imposed by a regular charge have become too arduous. The church from which Rev. Reed resigns three years ago celebrated the quarter centennial of his pastorate there.

Dr. Cox Will Address Club—Dr. John Harrington Cox, of the University of West Virginia will address the Woman's club at its meeting Friday afternoon of this week, taking the place of Hon. Thomas S. Crago, of Waynesburg, Pa., who was scheduled to speak. It is impossible for Dr. Cox to fill his appointment at this time, and arrangements were made by the president, Mrs. J. A. Meredith, to substitute the lecture by Dr. Cox, scheduled for a later date. Dr. Cox's subject is "Folklore of West Virginia." Mrs. Charles Waddell and Mrs. Forrest Fankhauser will sing a duet at the club meeting, and the double quartette will also sing.

Barbers Organize—Fairmont and Mannington barbers met in Trades Council hall last night and formed local No. 675. W. Hubbell, of Indianapolis, general auditor of the National Barbers Union, was in the city and directed the forming of the new local. The officers elected were President W. B. Jenkins, vice president, G. O. Judd, of Mannington, corresponding and financial secretary, E. E. Clemens, recorder, David Lambard, treasurer, S. E. Jenkins, A. A. Bochart, Charles Hubbs and A. L. Steer, from Mannington were present and represented that city.

Who Has Seen Claud?—Mrs. C. E. Gallihue notified the police this morning that Claud Kiger, aged 15 years, has been missing since 8 o'clock this morning from home and from school. He is described as five feet six inches tall, blue eyes and wears a blue serge knickerbocker suit. The police are searching for him.

Pittsburg Auto Show—At least fifteen Fairmont motorists and dealers will go to Pittsburg next week to attend the Pittsburg Automobile show. Several local dealers will see the models of cars they will handle here in the next few weeks.

Pear Season Now On—This is the "pear season" with local produce men. Car load after car load of fine "canning" pears have arrived in the last few days. The peach season is now gone and pears are almost the only fruit available for home canning purposes.

Suffrage Speakers—Dr. Effie McCullough Jones, of Iowa, delivered an address on suffrage at Mannington last evening before a good sized and enthusiastic audience. Miss Alma Sasse, another suffrage worker addressed an audience at Fairview last night and went to Worthington today where she will address a meeting.

PERSONALS

James Estes, president of the James Specialty company, returned from Indianapolis yesterday, where for the past few days he has been at the plant of the Falcon Tire company making arrangements for an increase of his territory.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson returned this morning from Logan, W. Va., and Cincinnati, O., where she had spent the last two weeks with her sons, Frank and Lee Hutchinson. She was accompanied home from Cincinnati by her granddaughter, little Miss Helen Hutchinson, who will spend several weeks here.

Mrs. Helen Holbert, of Edgemont, who had been ill at Cook hospital for the last two weeks, is improving.

Miss Monta Faust has returned from Sistersville, W. Va., where she had been the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. M. Jones, for several weeks.

Mrs. R. L. Cunningham and daughter, Miss Genevieve, are spending several days in Pittsburgh.

A. O. U. W. NOTICE
All members of the A. O. U. W. are requested to attend the funeral of Brother J. Wesley Parker from his late residence, 309 Murray avenue, Bellview, Wednesday afternoon.

FALL GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS TOMORROW

Elimination Matches Will be Completed by Next Monday.

The annual fall golf tournament of the Fairmont Country Club will be started on the Country Club course Wednesday, October 18. Elimination matches will be the first phase of the tournament, these contests lasting from the 18th to the following Monday the 23d. Drawings for the participants will be made today and will be posted at the club before the start of the tournament.

It is expected that this tournament will be one of the most interesting and closely contested of any that has been staged on the local links. The majority of the members have improved greatly in their playing since the last tournament and are now in condition to make very good scores.

Just as soon as the tournament is over the course will be put in condition for the winter, and to facilitate in this the players are asked to complete their matches as early as possible.

SEN. HARDING

and the twenty millions of persons engaged in the struggle again turn their energies to commercial channels. He presented statistics to prove that American wages and costs of manufacture are three times as great as they are in Europe because of the difference in the standard of living. Bringing this home to his audience Senator Harding quoted additional figures concerning the wage scale in the glass industry, which had been prepared by T. W. Roe. These placed the average wage skilled foreign glass workers at an average of $10 per week against the $50 and $60 weekly wage that the same class of labor receives in Fairmont.

Senator Harding exposed the Democratic fallacy that the Federal Reserve Banking act was in any way responsible for the present prosperity which is entirely due to the war.

The Adamson bill according to Senator Harding is a measure forced down the throat of Congress by Wilson who had used this method of playing both ends against the middle in order to get himself votes.

"I myself am in favor of eight hours work and it is the Republican party that has created the eight hour civil service day and the eight hour government contract day, but this Adamson bill is an indefinite measure adopted in haste merely to stave off the strike problem until after election since the bill does not go into effect until January."

Speaking further of this Senator Harding said, "This Adamson law if it is allowed to stand, which I seriously doubt, can either raise or lower wages and if we give Congress the power to fix wages they will also have power to compel the men to work and such a condition is industrial slavery. The whole affair is a humiliating example of Wilson's surrender to vote getting expediency."

The Senator talked but little more than an hour despite shouts and applause urging him to continue. He was compelled to leave early in order to make the 9:40 train on the B. & O. County Chairman Frank R. Amos called the meeting to order and Rollo J. Conley, candidate for prosecuting attorney presided as chairman introducing the speaker. The crowds was the largest and most enthusiastic of any that has gathered in the court house for either of the party meetings this year. Despite the rainy night hundreds crowded in and stood throughout the entire speech while even the corridors outside were filled with those who remained to hear the Senator but could not get in.

City Hall Notes

The city water gang is working at repairs today throughout the city. The men have been unable to get to these repair jobs on account of the large amount of work of laying storm and sanitary sewers. After these various jobs are done the gangs will again go to work on laying sewers on Robinson street.

The city hall today was the mecca for fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters hunting lost ones. Four young girls were lost, one boy and a man 30 years of age turned up missing at Bristol, W. Va. The man's father came here, figuring that his son was in jail drunk but such was not the case. The girls lost are all in one party and the boy a school lad of the city.

The water main in front of Cook hospital on Gaston avenue burst again Sunday afternoon and all of yesterday and today city water department workmen were engaged in repairing it. It is hoped to be fixed permanently by this evening.

RIVESVILLE PARTY

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fre Loveland last Tuesday night when a birthday surprise party was given in honor of Mr. Loveland's 49th birthday. He received many presents, one being a gold ring presented by some of the members of the Eagle Lodge of Rivesville of which he is a member.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hood, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. McVicker, Mrs. Dora Martin, Mrs. Charles Heller, Mrs. R. J. Johnson, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. John Hawkins, Stella Satterfield, Ruth Kelley, Agnes Smith, Nellie Smith, Nettie Hawkins, Flossie Smith, Jimmie Stewart, Howard Vincent, Harry Koener, Glen Smith, Asie Smith, Hood Heller, Walter Smith, Lonnie Johnson, Farris Williams, Virgil Jackson, Russell Stewart, Harry Hawkins, Herbert Smith, Elmer Johnson.

PRESENCE OF MIND.
"Oh, John!" shrieked Mrs. Dorkins. "The baby has swallowed a silver piece."

Mr. Dorkins took a handful of change out of his pocket and looked it over.

"Calm yourself, Maria," he said. "It was that counterfeit quarter I have been trying to get rid of."

IT'S ALWAYS A BIG BORE FOR A BURGLAR IF THE SAFE IS LOCKED.

Tommy came out of a room in which his father was tacking down carpet. He was crying lustily.

"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?" asked his mother.

"P-p-papa hit his finger with the hammer," sobbed Tommy.

"Well, you needn't cry at a thing like that," comforted his mother. "Why didn't you laugh?"

"I did," sobbed Tommy, disconsolately.

TEMPORARY OBJECTION.

A shoemaker was fitting a customer with a pair of boots, when the buyer observed that he had but one objection to them, which was the soles were a little too thick.

"If that is all," replied the shoemaker, "put on the boots and the objection will gradually wear away."

NOTICE TO ODD FELLOWS.

You are hereby notified of the death of Bro. J. W. Parker.

Marian Lodge No. 11 will meet at the hall, corner Main and Monroe streets, on Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1916, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. to attend the funeral in a body. Please be present if possible.

Rabbit Season Opens, Big Crop of Hunters

Yesterday was the first day of the open season on rabbits and as a result application for hunters licenses was greatly stimulated at the county clerk's office. Up to this afternoon there had been issued a total of 2462 county licenses and 216 state licenses. The squirrel season has been on a month now and will continue until December first. The rabbit season lasts until the first of January. Red fox, raccoon, mink and skunk may be hunted from November 1 to January 1. The open season for pheasant also opened yesterday, as did snipe. They will continue in sportsmen's favor until the middle of December. Wild duck may now be shot and the season will be open until January 16. Quail (Virginia partridge) may be hunted from November 1 until December 1.

Grytiken is lighted by electricity. Six thousand whalers are killed off the island annually.

Only two white women and one little girl live there.

Christmas is celebrated for two days with a big banquet and "exercises."

A movie show is held in the church once a month.

Winter comes in summer time—that is, our summer time—from May to September.

The harbor freezes six feet deep. It snows the year around.

There are only two cows and two horses on the island.

Only pigs are raised and they live on whale fat.

The rats are so numerous and fierce they have killed all the rabbits of South Georgia.
